Midnight fire destroys former Locke Mountain House

The former Locke Mountain House on the Sunday River Road, occupied by the Swan family for four generations, is gone.

What Sunday's midnight fire didn't take, an excavator did. The shell of the 150-year-old former inn was torn down Tuesday.

The fire started in the back section of the large structure, located on the Sunday River Road in Bethel. The occupants, Jon Swan, Deb Herrick and their seven-year-old daughter, Shelby, escaped the flames through a window. The blaze was discovered when Shelby woke up and asked her parents for a drink of water.

Fire departments from Bethel, Newry, Greenwood, Gilead and Woodstock responded to the fire scene. It was a losing battle, however, as the old wooden house with sawdust insulation went up like

The firefighters shuttled water in five tanker trucks from a nearby dry hydrant and the pond at the Great Grizzly restaurant. They ran out of water several times while

Police chief cites improvements

'For an awful long time the Bethel Police Department was the running joke of law enforcement in pretty much the entire state.'

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Police Department is more professional and more respected than it has been in a decade, at least in the eyes of current Police Chief Darren Tripp.

There is still room for improvement, Tripp told the town selectmen Monday, but the department is making continuous progress toward goals he set on becoming chief in

At that time, there was a crying need for improvement, in Tripp's eyes. "For an awful long time the Bethel Police Department was the running joke of law enforcement in pretty much the entire state. We were well known and not for a good reason," Tripp told the town selectmen Monday.

Tripp's comments came in the course of a discussion with the selectmen regarding the operation of

The committee studying a bus transit system for the Bethel area will go looking for local and state funding, following a public hearing on the issue last week.

Committee members took the response from the roughly 20 people who attended last Thursday's meeting as positive, said chairman Jim Largess,

The group will, however, try to find a way to incorporate several citizen suggestions - including

The proposed service would include regular local buses two days a week year-round, as well as more frequent shuttle service to Sunday River Ski Resort in the winter, The expected operating cost for two-bus service is estimated at approximately $100,000 a year. The cost would be shared by Bethel, Newry Sunday River and other area busi-

Meeting-goer Rocky Graham of Newry praised the plan, but had several concerns. "If Newry is going to be responsible for part of the cost, does that mean we're also going to run buses to the other side of Newry or just to the Sunday River side?" she asked.

She also said she has noticed many Gould Academy students walking the Route 2 overpass to get

FLY-IN THANKS

To the Editor:

We at Bethel Air would like to thank the following people for all of their hard work and contributions for our Radial Engine Fly-In this past Labor Day weekend: C.N. Brown, Douglas Bennett & Sons, Shaw's Supermarket, Bryant Pond Baptist Church, Bethel Fire Department, Maine Aviation Historical Society, John Wood of F.A.A., Bethel Foodliner, Bowman Flying Club, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Boutilier, Harold Clukey, Eddie Currier, Lindy Bartlett, Robert T. Folsom, Danny R. Kennagh, Steve Bernard, and Donald Campbell. The fly-in was a huge success, something we could not have accomplished without these people's support.

All proceeds from the chicken barbecue have been set aside for the interest of a flying club. Anyone interested should call the airport at 824-4321 – no license necessary, just the love of aviation.

We are now busy planning next month's fly-in, our first bushplane competition. The date for this will be Saturday, Oct. 9. We will be hosting another barbecue with hot dogs, hamburgs and chicken. Hope to see girls' dormitory. The exhibit will be on display in the Owen Art Gallery throughout October.

The traditional Lumberman's Breakfast opened the day on Saturday, as alumni/ae met to greet old friends and tour the campus. At 10 a.m. classes broke for Gould's current student body, and students, faculty, and alumni/ae gathered in Bingham Auditorium for a Convocation address by Dr. Harriet Stevens Turner '56.

As professor and chair of Modern Languages and Literatures at the University of Nebraska, Dr. Turner directs a department which offers instruction in eleven languages, including Italian, Portuguese, Chinese, Japanese, Czech, and Lakota Sioux, to more than 6,000 students a year.

Following the Convocation, a rededication ceremony was held on the lawn of Gehring Hall, and the dormitory building was opened for tours of the extensive, newly completed renovations. At noon the Parade of Classes made its way across campus to the dining hall for a buffet luncheon and the annual meeting of the Gould Academy Alumni/ae Association, Hugh Awalt, named Alumnus of the Year, was presented with a Gould Academy chair in recognition of his many years of outstanding service to the school. A member of the class of 1954, Hugh and his wife Marjorie live in Augusta, where they are active community volunteers.

Throughout the afternoon, sports teams were in action on the Gould fields.

In the living room of Ordway Hall, Nancy Stowell White '80, Director of Admissions, moderated a panel discussion. The panel, including Gould trustee Carolyn S. Wollen, Esq.; alumni/ae Dexter Stowell '46, Michael Brennan '73, and Dr. Michelle Prince '85; and past Gould Academy parent Rev. Jean Bass, attempted to answer the question "The Balanced Life: Is It Just a Dream?" It was an entertaining discussion, with spirited audience participation. No definite conclusions were reached.

An evening wine and cheese reception, the awarding of 50-year diplomas to the class of 1949, and the Alumni/ae Banquet concluded Saturday's on-campus festivities.

Five- and ten-year reunion classes gathered throughout the evening at local restaurants and pubs to continue their celebrations.

On Sunday, alumni/ae who still had energy left attended Sunday brunch in the dining hall, canoed the Androscoggin River, hiked Locke Mountain, or gathered to watch the Gould men's varsity soccer team take on a team of alumni players.

Buses

to Rite Aid, "a dangerous walk," she said. Would the bus serve those Committee chair Jim Largess said his group had not specifically discussed those scenarios, but would consider including routes to cover those needs.

The proposal does include a Sunday River employee shuttle service from Rumford, which Graham supported. She said she often takes hitchhikers back and forth to Rumford, and most of them are Sunday River employees.

Graham also suggested a shoppers' route to Gorham, N.H. The hearing was televised live on Channel 4, and the committee took several call-in questions.

Dot Murphy of Bethel called to ask how much time shoppers might have on another bus route that would take them to the grocery store and Wal-Mart. Consultant Tom Crikelair, who prepared the details of the proposal, estimated between one-and-one-half and two

He also discussed the potential market for the winter shuttle to Sunday River. He said the probability of filling seats on such a run is good. Area skiers, he said, would likely use it to avoid "fighting for a parking space" at the resort. Young skiers could also ride

Crikelair, who also prepared a transit plan for Stowe, Vt., in the early 1990s, said that in the past several years vacationing skiers have demonstrated a much greater willingness to "get out of their cars." Many of them are European skiers who are more accustomed to using mass transit, he said.

> Bus riders on a shopping route would likely have between one and two hours to shop.

During the summer, said Crikelair, transportation might also be provided to the day camp at Sunday River, and, if Bethel goes ahead with a proposal to build a swimming area on the North Road, to that recreation spot.

After the meeting Largess said the committee had gathered valuable information from the public input. "The purpose of the meeting was to see what else is out there," he said. "We said that if there was a need, we'd put it in (the proposal). We've got to start somewhere. Whether (a particular route) is in at the beginning or evolves later remains to be seen."

Crikelair's cost-sharing breakdown, he split the $100,000 operating expense as follows: $50,000 provided by Sunday River, $25,000 provide by other businesses and $25,000 split between Bethel and Newry. SAD44 could also contribute, if the district found it could save money by using the system to cover some of its activity runs.

The initial purchase cost for the buses, estimated at between $90,000 and $140,000 each, would be funded 80 percent by federal and state funds and 20 percent locally, said Crikelair.

If the committee receives enough business funding support for the plan, it might then be brought to Newry and Bethel selectmen for possible placement on Town Meeting warrants.

Don Murphy, Bethel's project specialist, said he will also be researching several administration methods, including town-operated, nonprofit authority-operated or contracted service.

He also said future meetings regarding the bus system will be broadcast on Channel 4. Last week's meeting was more successful, Murphy said, because of the call-in option.

In Our Backyard:

Save energy, save cash

To many of us, life can seem like a battlefield of competing priorities. Even in Maine, where life is "the way it should be," we struggle to balance spending more time with family, meeting that work deadline, eating more veggies and less fat and making sound investments for retirement.

With several gajillion concerns competing for our attention, where does energy conservation fall on our priorities list? For most of us, somewhere down near dusting behind the refrigerator.

Well, if you care about saving money (the two of you who don't can stop reading now), you might be interested in these energy "factoids."

A recent study determined that Americans spend an average of $2,228 per person annually on energy for their homes and cars, while spending only $1,775 on health care and $1,567 on entertainment.

Over the lifetime of an average vehicle, a car that gets 40 miles per gallon will save about $3,000 in gasoline costs as compared to a car getting 20 miles times longer than a regular bulb, and saves about $67 (more than four times the cost of the bulb) on

Conserving energy not only saves us money, it entitles us to an "I'm-helping-the-environment" pat on using less means less gunk in the air, and in our

So, perhaps you're thinking you'll give energy conservation a shot, but the thought of wearing so many sweaters that you look like the Michelin Man doesn't appeal to you. You'll be happy to know that conserving energy is easier than it used to be, and can be done without sacrificing comfort, even through the long Maine winter.

Here's a little "menu" of things we can do. A thermostat programmed for a cooler setting at night is one of the best ways to save energy and money, as is looking for the "Energy Star" label when buying new appliances.

Compact fluorescent bulbs and low-flow showerheads help a lot, too. We can wrap our hot water heaters, weather-strip our windows and doors, and insulate our attics. We can wash clothes in cold water. And we can consider buying a car that gets good gas mileage and carpooling when possible.

If you're buying a home, the Federal Housing

Administration offers an "energy-efficient mortgage" in which buyers automatically qualify for bigger loans if they plan to make home improvements that will save energy.

The money we save conserving energy could help us with some other priorities, like giving us more money to invest for retirement, or to buy more healthy veggies. Or maybe even hire someone to dust behind the refrigerator.

E-mail your environmental questions to infodep@state.me.us or send them to In Our Backyard, Maine DEP, 17 State House Station, Augusta, ME 04333. They will be answered periodically in

Briefly

Town sticks with ACO

BETHEL—Town Manager Scott Cole told the Board of Selectmen Monday that he had decided not to terminate the employment of Animal Control Officer Everett Chase. Chase, who serves as ACO for several area towns, pled guilty last month to unlawful sexual contact with a minor. According to court records Chase, 39, of Rumford, had sexual contact there with a girl under the age of 14. The Class C felony carried a maximum sentence of up to five years in prison, but under a plea agreement, Chase will be sentenced to two years in jail with all but 60-days suspended and three years of probation, according to Assistant 60 days suspended and three years of probation, according to Assistant District Attorney Joseph O'Connor. Cole said Monday that Chase's offense could be grounds for termination of his employment here, but after meeting with him and Bethel Police Chief Darren Tripp, he had decided not to terminate Chase. "It's an unsavory matter," Cole said, "but I don't believe that given the job description and the nature of the job, and after talking with the individual and the police chief — who vouches for the guy — I think it's probably in the town's best interest, balancing everything out, to keep the guy on payroll and move forward." A letter of reprimand will be placed in Chase's file, Cole said. In Greenwood, where Chase also serves as ACO, the selectmen have taken no action on the matter, according to Town Manager Carol Whitman. Told that Bethel was keeping Chase on the payroll, Whitman said: "I think we should, too, because he's excellent."

Directional sign appealed

BETHEL—David Carter, the owner of Carter's Cross Country Ski
Center, is appealing a decision by the Planning Board to deny his request for two business signs on Route 26. Carter's business is located intersection. "The tiny directional sign that is allowed is not enough to direct people to my business," Carter wrote in his request for an appeal. People traveling at 45-50 miles per hour, he said, would not see a sign near the intersection. Carter had offered to pay for the international symbol signs, which he said would be more visible than the business name lettering. The Planning Board had agreed to placing one double-sided international symbol sign near the intersection, but would not approve two signs. The Board of Appeals is expected to hear Carter's appeal within two weeks, according to Mary Rosberg, Bethel planning

Outward Bound out of Rockland

ROCKLAND—The Hurricane Island Outward Bound School is planning to move its sea program to St. George. The reason for the move, said school officials, is boat traffic, sewage contamination and general growth in Rockland's harbor. Outward Bound has purchased a 45-acre site on Wheeler Bay in St. George for $715,000. The sale is expected to close this month.

Poland bans personal watercraft
POLAND—A measure to prohibit "jet skis" on Tripp Lake and Middle and Upper Range ponds passed Monday, by a vote of 128-97.
Environmental and safety issues were cited by Tripp Lake Association members as the reason for the vote in favor of the ban. The ordinance governing the ban states "personal watercraft means any watercraft that is 14 feet or less in hull length as manufactured, has as its primary source of propulsion an inboard motor powering a jet pump" will be prohibited from the three lakes. The state Legislature will have the final say on the ordinance after it is reviewed by the commissioner of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife.

Lead control program announced

AUGUSTA—A new state program that will make 230 Maine homes safe from the dangers of lead-based paint was announced last week. The federal Department of Housing and Urban Development awarded the Maine State Housing Authority a $2.75 million grant over three years to run a lead hazard control program. MSHA is kicking in another $750,000. The money will provide grants to correct problems in housing where the occupants have incomes at or below 50 percent of median income, and low interest rate loans to those with incomes between 50 and 80 percent of median income.

Returnables will help hungry

LEWISTON-Through the month of October, returnable bottles and cans deposited in specially-marked bins at Shop 'n Save supermarkets in Maine will provide food to hungry families throughout the state. Good Shepherd Food Bank's "Operation: Deposit Hope" will raise money to help feed low-income families and the elderly. For more information, contact Kevin Feldman at (207)782-3554, or e-mail him at Keyin Feldman@gsfb.com.

More bad air days this year

BOSTON—Warm, dry weather caused New England to suffer from 25 percent more unhealthy days this year compared to last year, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency said last week. Based on preliminary data, there were 35 days when ozone monitors in New England recorded concentrations above the level considered healthy. Last summer, there were a total of 28 unhealthy days. The greatest jumps were recorded in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The long-term trend in the number of unhealthy days, however, continues downward.

Smith criticizes indictment

BANGOR—The driver facing charges of aggravated assault and driving to endanger after hitting author Stephen King said the criminal case against him shows favoritism toward a celebrity. "I know I hit him." I didn't mean to," Bryan E. Smith, 42, of Fryeburg, said Friday, one day after being indicted by an Oxford County grand jury. "Somebody can't accept that. Why can't they accept that it was an accident?" Smith is expected to be summoned to court for arraignment within two months. The grand jury charged that Smith "did routlesselve" within two months. The grand jury charged that Smith "did recklessly cause serious bodily injury" to King as the author was walking along a country road in Lovell June 19. If convicted, Smith could face up to 10 years in prison on the aggravated assault charge and up to six months behind bars on the driving to endanger charge. "Just because its Stephen King," Smith told the Bangor Daily News, "he can make up his own laws, his own rules. It's just like O.J. Simpson. If you have money, you can make up your own laws." Smith told police he was distracted by his dog when he lost control of his Dodge Caravan and struck King, who suffered multiple broken bones and a collapsed lung. Assistant district attorney Joe O'Connor said the grand jury received a "balanced presentation."

Tax prep volunteers needed

AUGUSTA-The Internal Revenue Service is looking for volunteers AUGUSTA—The Internal Revenue Service is looking for volunteers to help prepare basic tax returns for senior citizens, low-income taxpayers who cannot afford paid professional tax help, people with disabilities, those who have difficulty understanding English.

Volunteers can apply their skills in either of two programs: Tax

Smith has never owned his own business before, but the mortgage profession is not new to him. He spent 12 years in the retail banking business and "loved it," he said.

Smith, the son of Jerry and Jane Kneeland Smith and the grandson of the late Jason Smith, spent his early years in Bethel. The family then moved to Fryeburg, where he graduated from Fryeburg Academy.

Vests

Police Chief Darren Tripp recently raised the possibility of buying their replacements this year - in order to take advantage of federal funds that would pay half the cost of the vests.

The funds, Tripp told the town selectmen last month, were unlikely to be available next year, and if the town waited, it would probably have to pay full price for

But if the department went ahead and purchased the vests this year, he told the selectmen, it would deplete his remaining budget and leave no money available to cover unforeseen contingencies in the remainder of the fiscal year.

The decision on whether to buy this year or wait was Tripp's to make as department head, and after some discussion with the selectmen, he opted not to spend the money this year. The board con-

But then Hicks unexpectedly entered the picture.

He stopped by the Police Department recently, when Tripp was off duty, then later called the chief to ask about the vests.

"'Tell me about body armor,' he said," Tripp recalled. Then, 'Tell me about this grant thing."" donate the money needed to purchase the vests now, at no cost to the town.

"He said: 'I've got a place up Sunday River and I've done a lot of business with the town of Bethel and they've treated me right, so you buy your vests and send me the bill," Tripp told the board.

Hicks, Tripp said, "has lived in Maine all his life and the stuff he is seeing in the news, with the Portland officer being stabbed and the state trooper being shot up north, was very disturbing,"

Following his discussion with Hicks, Tripp did some further investigation and learned that the vests he wanted for the department were going to cost somewhat more than he had told Hicks.

Tripp discussed the matter with his two full-time officers, and the three agreed to pay the difference out of their own pockets.

He called Hicks and told him, and the businessman agreed to the arrangement. But when the check from Hicks arrived in the mail, it was for the full amount. No contribution from the officers will be needed. Tripp then decided to add $300 from his department budget in order to upgrade to vests offering a Tripp said that in addition to offering a higher level of threat protection, the new vests are lighter and custom fitted, rather than available only in a limited number of off-the-rack sizes.

That makes them more comfortable to wear, Tripp said, and less likely to be left in the trunk of the cruiser, "where they don't protect Selectmen Reggie Brown and Don Bennett argued for a higher profile police presence on Bridge Street, in order to slow speeders.

"That probably does a lot just to see those blue lights behind you," said Brown. "When you go to Gorham N:H. you know better. It's almost like they've got a sign out there - 'You're going to get stopped.'"

Chairman Dutch Dresser said he regarded the police force "as walking a fine line between being prepared for the horrific and living day by day with pretty ordinary people doing pretty ordinary things – and having to occupy those both worlds."

One goal Dresser suggested for the department would be, "lending to the creation and perpetuation of an environment that feels safe to everyone, from children to the elderly."

Tripp, in response, briefly addressed the specific issue of distribution of coverage. "We're responsible for law enforcement for everything within the town limits be it Route 2 all the way to Newry were going to cost somewhat more than he had told Hicks.

Tripp discussed the matter with his two full-time officers, and the three agreed to pay the difference out of their own pockets.

They have reason," he said. "I personally think received numerous offers of we're working toward that." shelter, food and other help,

He noted that as a result more and more people are coming into the Police Department when they feel an incident or concern warrants action by the department.

"Complaints are up," he said, in contrast to only a few years ago, when the duty officer could go through an entire shift without being approached by anyone. Tripp's second goal, he said, was regain a level of professionalism I personally thought we had lost."

His third goal, he told the selectmen, was to raise the level of training and equipment - actions which he viewed as long overdue.

Overall there has been progress on all those goals, he said, but room for improvement will always exist. "I don't think those goals will ever be reached, but if you stop striving for those goals you become ineffective. If you feel you've got total confidence of the town, you're wrong."

He urged the selectmen to feel free to come in to the Police Department - and to encourage other residents to do the same whenever they had questions or concerns regarding the operation of the department."

"My door is always open. I can't fix it if I don't know it's broken," he said.

Lowest paid in Oxford County

Tripp said that the largest obstacles standing in the way of further improvement in the Bethel Police Department were money and manpower.

Full-time patrol officers in Bethel are the lowest paid in Oxford Country -- by approximately $3,000 a year, he said. They are also the lowest paid in the entire state among towns with comparable populations he said.

An officer starting in the Bethel Police starts at $17,500, Tripp noted, "when he can go for a 30minute ride anywhere in this county and jump his salary to $25,000. It's surprising we don't lose many more officers.'

For himself, he said, "I don't make as much money as the majority of starting patrol officers in Oxford County. It's not a complaint -- it's a statement of

He also made the case for adding an additional full-time officer.

As things stand now, he said the two full-time officers work at least 48 hours a week (not including oncall time), and he works 50 to 60 hours.

"I see the addition of an additional officer as a benefit to my department," Tripp said, ""by reducing the number of hours the officers are on duty, doing away with any on-call time and eliminating overtime issues."

Looking forward, Tripp said, he saw a period of continued development for the department. Our overriding goal is to continue to grow with the town," he said, "and continue to provide the protection and security this town deserves."

It is also a period of personal and professional growth for himself, he said. "It's still a learning program for me. I'm a 33-year-old police

At a recent police chiefs' meeting, Tripp said, many of his peers "had kids my age. Talk about being a fish out of water."

I called my sister Dotte on her birthday, Sept. 30. All is well in her family and we had a nice time chatting about an article I sent her on Stan Farrar and baseball. Dotte is from this area, but has lived in Tempe, Ariz., for many years.

Birthdays being celebrated in October are: Dustin Tilley, Aaron Bean, Linsey Record, Rosalie Poland, Karon Wing, Laurie Cox, Roger Wilday, Jeannie Grover, Virginia Mason, Jerrold Mason, Lisa Ryerson, Matthew Ryerson, Chad Ryerson, Rhonda Yap, Benjamin Yap, Brandon Yap, Don Mason Jr. and Darren Brown. Anniversaries being celebrated this month are: Jim and Evelyn Dunn, Pat and Wayne Lawrence, Jim and Kris Miclon, Bruce and Donna Danforth, Ernie and Rhonda Yap and Robert and Maggie Gleason. Best wishes to everyone.

not had a respectable frost yet. Last week, an independent film company shot a movie in the area. It encompassed an area from the Upton Grange to the last cabin in Grafton Notch State Park. Arthur "Mike" Murphy's grandson, Tim Gallagher, participated and was instrumental in using this area for the filming. Of course, Mike had a starring role, which accounts for the scruffy beard he has diligently been cultivating this past month. Good luck to the cinematographer's

We had an enjoyable hour visiting over tea and Doris' wonderful oatmeal muffins. Allan gave me a picture of old Upton. He said it is probably one of the oldest pictures of Upton Village. Route 26 is about 10 feet wide and a dirt wagon road in this picture. The Abbott House and Judkins' Store is in the background, while in the foreground is a very large barn on the corner of Mill Road. No one seems to have a memory of the barn being on that spot. It includes the Grange building. Cedric Judkins' barn was up the road. Others are of the opinion that it was a barn that was moved by Aldana Brooks, to Bethel. Lately, I have heard many comments on the manner which our teenagers dress. You know, the big sneakers, the droopy-crotch pants, and the oversized "T" shirts. They appear messy but comfortable, Last week, The Citizen published a pic-ture of the 1899 Gould Academy football team. Our kids look a little better than they did. The guy in the middle in the "bowler" hat and the other fellow down front in the "Jester's" suit were quite impressive. The part in the center of their hair looked like the straightaway on Route 2. What were the objects around their necks? Were they neckties? Like all teenage fashions, they must have grown out of them.

I was sorry this morning to read of the death of John A. Zinck of Arizona and formerly of Mexico. He was the one who drove his horse, Scout, and covered wagon from Rumford to Tacoma, Wash. from 1990 to 1993. I remember seeing his wagon at Tootie Wilson's in Lovell. I believe it was being repaired, or he was sick and had to stop on the way. Then later, he drove the same covered wagon but with a different horse, Katy, from Rumford to Tignish, P.E.I. Here are some words of wisdom that I didn't write, but wish I had. Indispensable? - Sometime, you're feeling important,/Sometime, when your ego's in bloom,/Sometime when you take it for granted/You're the best qualified in the room;/Sometime, when you feel your going/Would leave an unfillable hole./Just try this simple experiment/And see how it humbles your soul./Take a bucket and fill it with water,/put your hand in clear up to the wrist/now pull it out and the hold that remains/is a measure of how you'll be missed;/you can splash all you please when you enter,/you can stir up, the water galore./ Then stop; you'll find in a minute/that it looks just the same as before./ The moral in this quaint example;/is to do just the best that you can be proud of yourself, but remember,/there is no indispensable Man. - Woman,

Anita's "old Dad" wanted to climb the mountain with them; we selected the Huntington Ravine for the ascent and Lion's Head for the return. Now, I have only been in Huntington Ravine once, about 1955, at which time there were six wooden ladders to get you over the rough places. Well, I'm here to tell ya, "There ain't no ladders there now," and we all agreed that it was. the most challenging regular marked trail that either of us had ever been on. There are several places on the headwall of the ravine where one must climb up steep ledges with only a minimum of handholds or cracks to hold onto. But it was a spectacular day, with bright sunshine, clear visibility and almost no wind, the nicest weather I can ever remember at the top of the "rockpile." After a snack and a break at the summit, we made the descent uneventfully, with a few sore thigh muscles the only adverse after-affects.

We all enjoyed the rest of Anita's visit, until we had to arise at 2:30 a.m. the following Saturday in order to get them to Manchester for their 7 a.m. departure flight. There are many new memories to savor, including my daughter's habit of taking seemingly forever to get ready to go anywhare, and her habit of procrastinating, which I think, she inherited from me. We "Masonite" Grovers were - also happy to enjoy a few days with my niece, Lee Ann Grover Pippenger, and her husband, Paul. They were in this area for Lee's class reunion, celebrating 40 years since graduating from Gould Academy. Lee is the late Walter Grover's daughter, and she and ... Paul live in Orifino, Idaho, where Paul is a prominent businessman. I. could tell Lee especially enjoyed catching up on family gossip at "Aunt Verna and Uncle Dewey's" place and also with her girlfriends' of the "West Bethel Mafia."

In any case, it is this week, now, and all my reminders are out of date, so I'll mostly start again, which is easy, because it was another beautiful week. Someone must be looking out for us. I welcome the chill in the morning air and the warmth of the day. Today it is raining, however, and the forecaster predicted snow. I started out for Gorham, saw the consistency of the rain, and came back in the house. There are, after all, other things I can do on such a cold and wet day. Last weekend was perfect fair weather and I headed up to Common Ground Fair along with Exneighbor Nancy and Kevin. The day couldn't have been nicer. It was warm and sunny, but not too hot. We had a bit of a problem with the sheriff forcing us to park in paid parking when fairground parking is free, but we didn't let it spoil the day. I just wonder who was paying whom.

The fair itself was greatly improved, with more exhibits and much less dust in the air. There was musical entertainment, Indian drumming, dancers and more. The Children's Area offered all kinds of delights to the young and the young at heart. The food was great - all

Later in the week, I also took in a walk up what remains of the Slide Inn Road in Stoneham. The road is iust a snowmobile trail, now, but once a real road with an inn at the end. Tasha even found a mud hole and a marsh to roll in. MMM.

Last week, I went to a meeting in Augusta, Tuesday, about the East/West Highway. The meeting/ hearing released the last of the studies that were done about a fourlane divided highway. On the way to and from the fair, I took a good look at Route 2 and thought it was fine just the width it is. I can't imagine two lanes of tractor-trailer trucks speeding through that countryside hurrying to market. Many homes would lose all or most of their yards, and towns would look a lot different. The study agreed that economically and environmentally it makes more sense to upgrade the existing roads than to create all new roads. I hope Arlan will rethink his support of it. I also went to a public forum of the Greater Bethel Transit Committee on public transportation in the area. It was Wednesday. Sept. 29. There weren't a lot of people there. but it was broadcast on Channel IV and a number of folks called in with questions. I hope the committee takes all the input to heart and creates a system that makes sense for all of us. Hopefully, that will mean transportation for all of Newry and certainly all of the valley, not just the ski area corridor.

There's also a hearing in Bethel on the new subdivision proposed for Sunday River Road, Will View. The hearing is in front of the Bethel Board of Appeals on Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. in the Town Office meeting room. It is in response to a complaint from abutters. Call the Bethel Town Office for details.

In other news, I repaired my car and it now runs in the rain. Don's Car Care replaced the distributor cap and I replaced the plugs and one plug wire that was faulty. The others are fairly new and I hope they'll hold.

Today is the start of moose hunting, and Linda has a permit. Probably other valley residents do, also, but she is the only one I know of who has a permit to hunt locally. I hope she has good luck and that by the time you read this she will have gotten her moose.

I must go to Sears and to Shaw's,

Anyone with an unusual item from the past that may prompt some discussion is encouraged to bring it to the meeting. Also those with historical collections are encouraged to bring a sampling to show those attending. Following this portion of the meeting, Gail Butterfield of South Paris, who has

THE

AUTHOR OF "THE HUN-GRY OCEAN" HEADLINES GOULD ACADEMY'S 'IN THE NEWS' SERIES Bestselling author Linda Greenlaw will speak, take questions and autograph books during an evening presentation in Gould Academy's Bingham Auditorium at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 14. Prominently featured as a swordfishingboat captain in Sebastian Junger's 1997 "The Perfect Storm," Linda Greenlaw has agreed to take time from her current lobsterfishing business off Isle au Haut to address the Gould Academy and greater Bethel communities as part of Gould's "In The News" Series. Spurred by the publication of Junger's bestseller, Greenlaw this year published her own account of the swordfishing trade. "The Hungry Ocean" is a practitioner's account of the lives of those who go to sea in quest of swordfish. Greenlaw, who was an English major at Colby College, will spend Thursday, Oct. 14, talking with Gould students in English classes about the craft of writing. She will speak, take questions and autograph books during the evening presentation in Bingham Auditorium at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend the evening presentation. There is no charge.

Agnes Gray School

by Marta Clements The faculty of our school is hosting a Volunteer Celebration to show our appreciation for all of the wonderful things our volunteers do for us. Some invitations have gone out to past volunteers, but we are hoping that many new volunteers, or anyone we may have inadvertently forgotten will still feel wanted and included. So, if you have ever volunteered for us, or if you plan to volunteer, please join us tonight, Thursday, Oct. 7, at 6:30 p.m. at the Agnes Gray School. Let us treat you for a change.

School Volunteers. We meet in the school library and would like to see it overflowing with parents, teachers and anyone w!.5 would like to work with us.

cards will be going home on Nov. 11, with parent conferences to be held on Nov. 15. We are going to try a different approach to conferences this year. Be on the watch for further information.

Many of us will be participating in the American Heart Walk on Saturday, Oct. 16, and we welcome all who would like to join us. Marta Clements still has available sponsor sheets. The walk will begin at 9 a.m., with registration at 8:30 a.m., and we will be meeting at Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School.
On Oct. 23, Make A Difference

Day, the staff at our school is sponsoring a bottle drive to benefit Ben Farnum and family. Ben developed a rare spinal cord injury and is facing a lengthy recovery. The bottle drive will be based at the Agnes Gray School and will take place from 9 a.m. to noon. We could use more adult drivers, students and families to help us collect. Cans and bottles can also be dropped off at the school that morning. Contact any of us if you would like us to pick up at your house, or if you could leave a donation at another time than Saturday morning. We can make a difference,

Have you driven by our school and noticed the neat fall decorations? The Junior Girl Scouts have set up pumpkins, flowers, and a scarecrow, complete with a West Paris sweatshirt. It is very attractive and we thank the girls and their leaders very much.

Like all schools, we are focusing more than ever on safety. We are continuing many of the precautions that we always have and we are adding even more. As always, please call the school if your child is going to be absent, or send a note Oct. 12, at 6:30 p.m., will be the regular meeting of the West Paris ten note is required for any child to change his dismissal routine. That note will be kept for our records and a copy will be made to give the bus driver. K, grade-one and gradetwo students are having bus safety We are more than halfway through the first ranking period. Grades close on Oct. 29. Report safety.

Emergency plans are being reviewed and updated, and emergency drills are conducted regu-

We ask all visitors to stop at the office, and we ask anyone who is taking a child out of school early to stop at the office and sign out the children.

We are having a contest to see who can come up with a name for our school newsletter.

Keep saving the Campbell labels and the Box Tops for Education for us. Thank you.

Gould 4, Kents Hill 0; Oct. 2--A win over Kents Hill on Gould's Alumni Day improved the team's season record to 2-0-1. Dan Tutor scored Gould's first goal 20 minutes into the game off an assist by Kane Olson. The second goal of the game, by Rex Kim, with an assist from In Jae Kim, followed two minutes later. Gould scored again in the second half on a shot from Bora Yetis, assisted by Zeke Davisson. Davisson scored the final goal of the game in the last minute of play off an assist from Marcus Ng. Goalie Taber Hammond recorded the shut-out.

Telstar 2, Carrabec 1; Oct. 2-Kinsey Durgin and Matt Hamel each scored second-half goals in a win over Carrabec. "Solid defense at sweeper by Mike Swan and steady goalkeeping by Jeremy Benson stopped a number of good scoring chances by the Cobras," said coach Charlie Newell. "Wade Osgood played well at both ends of the field."

Gould 1, Hebron 1; Sept. 29--Rex Kim scored Gould's goal, unassisted, seven minutes into the second half. Goalie Carter Fort had six saves while allowing Hebron only one goal, which came in the last 30 seconds and tied the game.

Jackie Paaso and Kate Warner each scored two goals and each had one assist. Megan Holtham and Kyle Pribish each had one goal and one assist. Martha Gray, Adora Burke, Tracy Benoit, and Laura Jenks each scored a goal, and Emily Parsons had an assist. The team is now 5-0 for the season, and opponents have yet to score a goal against them.

Gould 3, Hebron 0; Sept. 29--Gould's women's varsity team continued their winning streak with a shut-out at Hebron last Wednesday. Courtney Amadon, Adora Burke, and Betsy Capone each scored a goal. Coach Lauren Head praised the "outstanding hustle" of Kyle Pribish, who picked up an assist on Gould's second goal of the game.

Annual Drinking Water Quality Report for 1998

Bethel Water District

PO Box 104, Bethel ME 04217

We're pleased to present to you our first Annual Drinking Water Quality Report. This report, a requirement of the 1996 amendments to the Safe Drinking Water Act, is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. WATER SOURCE

Our water source is the Chapman Brook, which flows towards Bethel from Newry and the mountains to the northwest. We screen the water twice at the Chapman Brook Reservoir on Reservoir Road before treating it with chlorine to protect from possible contaminants and fluoride to promore dental health. It is then gravity fed to our 1075 customers through 430 service connections. Because we do not filter and we own 2,30% acres urrounding the source, we have developed and ampiemented a Watershed Control Program designed to prevent contamination of the Chapman

Brook Similarly, the Maine Drinking Water Program will be evaluating all public water supplies state wide by the year 2003 as part of the Source Water Assessment Program The evaluation will consider geology and hydro-

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

All sources of drinking water are subject to potential contamination by constituents that are natutally occurring or are man made. Those constituents can be microbes, organic or inorganic chemicals, or radioactive materials. All drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV / AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of intection by cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

WATER SOURCE

The Maine Drinking Water Program will be evaluating all public water supplies statewide by the year 2003 as part of the Source Water Assessment Program. The evaluation will consider geology and hydrology, land uses, water testing information, and the extent of land ownership or protection by local ordinance to determine how likely our drinking water source is to be contaminated in the future. When this work is completed by the state it will be included in future versions of this report. For more cerning your water utility, please Lucien Roberge, Acting Superintendent, at 824-2342. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. If you want to learn more, please attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. They are held on the third Tuesday of every month, 4 p.m., at the Bethel Water District office, 9 Philbrook St. The West Bethel Water System routinely moni-

THE HERRICK BROTHERS GARAGE was built by John Swan for Ed, Albion and George Herrick in 1907 on the site that is now a parking lot on Bethel's lower Main Street, between Finish Line Pizza and the Bethel Ambulance Garage. It was demolished in the 1960s to provide additional space for parking at Martha's Restaurant (now Finish Line). Automobiles such as the Maxwell and REO were sold here in its early days. Later, this was the site of an auto repair for both Lawrence and Robert Lord, Gilbert Brown, William Von Zintl, Marcus "Tim" Sweat and Roscoe Swain. Swain sold farm machinery, trucks and appliances here. In 1922, Robert Farwell was advertising tires and tubes vulcanized from this location. Ed Herrick had a machine shop under this building as did Edward Lowell, who operated a welding and machine business here in the 1950s. Avery Angevine sold "Jeeps" here in the 1940s. His brother Ernest had a chain saw, welding, and pulpwood conveyor shop heré from 1956-59. This photograph is one of thousands that can be found at the Bethel Historical Society, which also possesses an outstanding collection of manuscripts, books, documents, and artifacts relating to western Maine and northern New Hampshire. The society is currently raising funds fo. "its Regional History Center on Broad Street and the 1821 O'Neil Robinson House, which now houses the museum shop, exhibit galleries, and offices, but when completed will also provide improved storage space and greater access to collections as well as rooms devoted to educational activities, research, and traditional crafts. Once the center is fully operational it will offer an expanded series of lectures, special events, conferences, courses, seminars, and publications. To learn more about this project, call the society at (207) 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 or use the email address history@bdc.bethel.me.us or visit the Web site http://orion.bdc.bethel.me.us/~history.

LEONE B. PENLEY

Leone Bane Penley, 89, of West Paris, died Wednesday, Sept. 29, 1999, at the Ledgeview Living Center from complications following an accident.

She was born in Mexico on Sept. 19, 1910, the daughter of Charles and Elnora Fuller Bane, In 1929 she graduated from West Paris School. She studied voice with Mrs. Harrison from New York, worked for Penley Brothers and the U.S. Post Office.

On Sept. 28, 1933, she married Joseph Penley of West Paris and they shared 65 years of marriage before his death last year.

Her life was a wife, mother and homemaker. She sang for many years in the Universalist Church choir and in many musical shows.

She was a 50-year member of Granite Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, Onward Rebekah Lodge, a life member of the West Paris Alumni Association, the West Paris Historical Society and the Eleanor B. Forbes Goodwill group of the Universalist Church.

During World War II she was a member of the "V" club that sent letters to servicemen from the area. She gave many hours to the chilof Richard G. Hutchins Murdered October 9, 1992

I cannot say, and I will not say, That he is dead, he is just away! With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand, he has wandered into an unknown land, and left us dreaming how very fair. It needs must be, since he lingers there. And you - o, you, who the wildest yearn, For be old time step, and glad return, In the love of there, as the love of here; Think of him still as the same, I say; He is not dead - he is just away.

Loved and missed by Mom, Nana and family dren of the area as a Girl Scout leader for 10 years and 4-H leader for three years.

She and Joe spent many happy summers at Camp Cambridge in Upton and fishing the Rangeley Lakes. Nineteen winters took them to Brandon, Fla., where they made many friends.

Family and friends will always remember her for her great artistic ability in crewel embroidery and sewing that she did and for being a great friend and neighbor. She was a loving, gentle mother, grand-mother and great-gram, who always had time to write a note, read a book, or teach them how to embroider. Survivors include her daughter and husband, Elaine and Norman Emery of West Paris; two granddaughters; one great-grand-daughter; and a sister, Elizabeth Corbett of South Paris. A celebration of her life was held Friday, Oct. 1, at the Second Congregational Church, Norway, with interment in Wayside Cemetery, West Paris. Those who wish may make memorial gifts in her memory to Tri-Town Rescue, c/o Mrs. Carolyn Baker, 53 Elm Street, Norway, ME 04268.

Card of Thanks

The family of Celia Gorman wish to thank their friends and relatives for all the many acts of kindness shown to them at the time of Celia's passing.

Their out pouring of love and support was so incredible, listing individuals would be impossible, you all know who you are. Bethel is truly a wonderful place to live. We feel blessed.

FRANCIS H. VAIL JR.

Francis H. Vail Jr., 74, of Maine Street, East Stoneham, died Saturday morning, Oct. 2, 1999, at Central Maine Medical Center.

Mr. Vail was born in Newry on Feb. 1, 1925, son of the late Francis H. and Martha (Morton) Vail. He attended Newry schools and Gould

He married the former Eloise Perkins on June 20, 1946, who survives him.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Vail served in the U.S. Navy with a P.T. Boat squadron.

A resident of Stoneham for nearly a half century, he was employed with the Maine Department of Transportation, from which he retired, as a foreman, working out of the Bethel, Oxford and Lovell districts.

Mr. Vail was a member and Past Chancellor Commander of the Stoneham Knights of Phythias, recently being honored with a life membership from them.

An outdoorsman, Mr. Vail enjoyed hunting, fishing, and developed an avid interest in minerals and archaeology. He was one of the original finders of the Deer Hill Amethyst Mine, of Stow, and discovered beryllium on Little Rattlesnake Mountain in Stoneham. Specimens of his minerals have been placed in the Maine State Mu-
